6. Due to a highly classified test conducted by the Department of Defense there was a slowdown in our cable traffic from Europe. General Cabell became quite concerned that the Director and others were not notified of this test. On checking, it seemed to me that the Office of Communications had done everything reasonable to insure that our traffic kept moving but that they had not notified the Director. General Cabell agreed with me that no action should be taken on this until General [redacted] returned; however, he stated that he wanted to talk to General [redacted] and me about it.
